

MARTA MONTLEON
SUPERINTENDENT-DIRECTOR
(2009-2017)

Served as a student-first Superintendent who championed student opportunity through programs like the House Building Project

Demonstrated unmatched generosity by hosting annual cookouts for all shop students involved in the House Project, recognizing their hard work

Supported the Key Club food drive for years, personally donating dozens of turkeys and helping foster a culture of community service

Alongside her husband Edward, contributed thousands in scholarships to Diman graduates through the Diman Alumni Association

Over 35 years of dedicated service to public education as a teacher, administrator and community member

“At Diman, every student mattered—and showing students they were valued was the most important lesson we could teach”
